GLOW 2010

Artist, Performers & Volunteer Entry

Notes:

You are responsible for installing your piece by the deadline. Insuring that it works pre-GLOW and maintaining it throughout the weekend of GLOW. You must remove your piece by the following weekend or make arrangements with the organizers.

Power is limited. Those of you with larger power requirements, equipment drawing lots of amps (i.e. amplifiers, projectors, Tesla coils etc...) Please be considerate and give us a detailed assessment of your needs well in advance. There are a lot of other artists sharing circuits. When over consumption pops a breaker everyone on that loop is deprived of electricity.

Bring power cords and power strips necessary for your piece, Label them with a name and phone number to insure you do not lose them. Alternative power is encouraged, Solar and batteries are a great way to power a piece. LED lighting has come way down in price too. Take some time to consider making your artwork self-contained. It will reduce the load, encourage green practices and make you independent of our funky old power supply.

Spread the word! GLOW is an open collaborative effort. It would be nothing if not for the gift that everyone involved makes every year. The community that GLOW fosters is a unique rich creative tapestry. Surely you know some people who's contribution would make this years GLOW even more amazing.

Make sure you are in the loop! Even if you don't have a concept or aren't sure if you can attend send us an email. We'll make sure you are on the Artist/Performer mailing list. We're artists ourselves so we get it. Our goal is to make this the best GLOW! Ever and we can't do that without you. Spots will be assigned as soon as we begin receiving entry forms. Help us by getting them in as early as possible. If there are special considerations let us know.
